1. The WSP received a Public Records request via email from Phil Mocek of MuckRock News/MuckRock.com on or about July 10, 2012 that requested the disclosure of GPS data of in excess of 500 employees of the Washington State Patrol. (See, Plaintiff's Petition for Enjoinder at Exhibit A, page 3.)
 2. This data will include the GPS coordinates of the WSP employees' home addresses. (See Petition at Exhibit C.)
 3. Absent an Emergency Temporary Enjoinder, the State of Washington/Washington State Patrol will release complete GPS records regarding more than 500 employees on September 12, 2013. (See, Petition for Enjoinder at Exhibit A, page 1.) Absent an emergency temporary order, the location of Heather Axtman's house and the location of more than 500 other employees of the WSP will be disclosed before this matter has an opportunity to be heard and decided by a Superior Court Judge.
 4. Trooper Axtman was the subject of a March 4, 2013 Public Records request for GPS data that would have disclosed the coordinates of her home. Trooper Axtman filed a Motion for Enjoinder in Snohomish County Superior Court, Cause Number 13-2-04107-1 asking the Court to enjoin the WSP "from releasing unredacted GPS data that shows or tends to show the geographic location of this or any other trooper's residence."
 5. The State of Washington/WSA appeared through Assistant Attorney General Shelley A. William. The State acknowledged that Trooper Axtman had "expressed valid personal and

1 policy concerns regarding the release of GPS data” that corresponded to her residential
2 address and took a “neutral position” with regard to her request for an enjoinder. (See, WSP
3 Response to Motion for Enjoinder, Cause No. 13-2-04107-1, May 6, 2013 at pages 10, line
4 15 and page 14, line 13.)

- 5 6. In an Order signed by Snohomish County Judge, The Honorable Janice E. Ellis on May 9, 6 2013 under Cause Number 13-2-04107-1, the Court found that Trooper Axtman met the 7 burden of proof necessary to grant an enjoinder on her behalf and granted an enjoinder on the 8 release of the GPS data “from which her home address could readily be determined.” The 9 Court found that Trooper Axtman did not have standing/had not presented sufficient facts to 10 receive an enjoinder on behalf of other WSP employees. (A true and correct copy of that 11 Order is attached at Exhibit A.)
- 12 7. Although the number of employees impacted by the Public Records request has dramatically 13 increased in the present case as compared to the March 4, 2013 request, the facts and 14 circumstances are virtually identical. The Plaintiffs have a good faith basis to believe they 15 will be entitled to the relief accorded by this Court to Trooper Axtman on May 9, 2013 so 16 their request for an emergency temporary enjoinder is reasonable and necessary to avoid 17 irreparable harm.
- 18 8. Additionally, the Public Records request asks for data about employees from across the 19 entire State. The Plaintiffs have submitted declarations of support from WSP employees 20 from across the State. For the purpose of promoting judicial economy and efficiency, the 21 Snohomish County WSP employees should be found to have standing to pursue an enjoinder
22 on behalf of all of the WSP employees who are the subject of the July 10, 2013 Public 23 Records request.

24 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of Washington that the foregoing is true
25 and correct.

JOHN ROBINSON, THE WASHINGTON
STATE PATROL, and THE STATE OF WASHINGTON,

Defendants.

THIS MATTER came on regularly for hearing on Plaintiff's Motion for Enjoiner of Disclosure of Public Records. Plaintiff seeks an Order enjoining the Washington State Patrol (hereinafter "WSP") "from releasing unredacted GPS data that shows or tends to show the geographic location of this or any other trooper's personal residence." Motion and Memorandum for Enjoiner; Docket No. 12, p. 1, lines 18-19.

The Plaintiff appeared by and through her attorney, Karen Schweigert; Defendant John Robinson did not appear; and Defendants WSP and the State of Washington appeared by and through Assistant Attorney General Shelley Williams. The Court reviewed the court file, heard the arguments made at the May 9, 2013 hearing, and received and considered the following documents: Petition for an Order for Protection – Harassment and to Enjoin Disclosure (Docket No. 1 and Docket No. 6); Reissuance of Temporary Order for Protection (Docket No. 7); Motion and Memorandum for Enjoiner (Docket No. 12); Washington State Patrol's Response to Motion for Enjoiner (dated May 6, 2013), with accompanying Exhibits (Exhibit A: Declaration of James Hill, dated 4/25/13; Exhibit B: Declaration of Wesley H. Rethwill, dated 4/24/13 (with Attachments 1 and 2); Exhibit C: Declaration of Roy Marsh, dated April 24, 2013; Exhibit D: Declaration of Gretchen Dolan (with Attachments 1–10); and Exhibit E: Final Legislative Report for the 1987 Regular and Special Sessions of the Washington State Legislature). Based on the foregoing, the Court enters the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law that follow.

I. FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On or about March 4, 2013, the WSP received a public records request from a Mr. John Robinson. The request asked for “an emailed document of Trooper Heather Axtman badge number 333 vehicle GPS locations for 2/27/13 and 3/1/13.”
2. The responsive record is a spreadsheet that includes columns for the date, time, address, and latitude and longitude coordinates (GPS data) that appears to correspond to Trooper Axtman's residential address. Dolan Declaration, ¶ 6. Approximately eight rows on the spreadsheet contain either GPS coordinates or a generalized physical address for Trooper Axtman's residence. Dolan Declaration, ¶ 7. This information can be easily and readily translated into Trooper Axtman's home address.

1 Dolan Declaration, ¶ 8. The responsive record contains additional information which
2 is not the subject of Trooper Axtman's Motion for Enjoinder.¹

3 3. Trooper Axtman objects to the release of her home address. When notified that a Mr.
4 Robinson filed a request for information under the Public Records Act that, in part,
5 obligates the WSP to produce the GPS coordinates of her residence, Ms. Axtman
6 filed a timely Motion to Enjoin the WSP from releasing that information.

7 4. Trooper Axtman sought protection both through the Motion for Enjoinder and 8 through an Anti-Harassment Order. Trooper Axtman's filings demonstrate that she 9 took these steps for a variety of reasons: as a law enforcement officer with general
10 law enforcement jurisdiction authority, she takes precautions to maintain her personal 11 safety and the safety of her family; she does not know Mr. Robinson; when she 12 researched his name it returned to an individual who is incarcerated for murder; she 13 cannot identify a legitimate reason why any citizen would need her home address for 14 any legitimate purpose; she is concerned that the requestor is using a fictitious 15 identity, which further heightens her concern for her personal safety and the safety of 16 her family. Petition for Order for Protection – Harassment and to Enjoin Disclosure
17 (Docket No. 1 and 6); Motion for Entry of Anti-Harassment Order and Order
18 Enjoining Disclosure (Docket No. 2).

20 5. In particular, Trooper Axtman represented in a Declaration dated April 11, 2013, that 21 "[t]he fact that a person unknown to me is requesting information that would 22 undecidedly [sic] give him the address of my residence is frightening to me and can 23

24 ¹ The WSP acknowledges that the information that is not the subject of Trooper Axtman's Motion is disclosable and will be 25 provided to the requestor under the Public Records Act. The Court presumes this includes everything other than the eight columns of information discussed in this Finding of Fact.

1 have no legitimate purpose except to harass me . . . I was so frightened, alarmed and 2 emotionally distressed [by the prospect that my home address would be disclosed to 3 the requestor] that I paid $360.00 to upgrade my residential alarm system. My step-
4 daughters reside with my husband and myself throughout the entire summer,
5 Christmas and Spring breaks. I am terrified that something will happen to them or to 6 my husband and myself or to one of our neighbors at the hands of respondent John
7 Robinson. While it is true that I am a Washington State Trooper, I am also a person
8 and I have never been so terrified in my entire life. I fear for my safety and that of 9 my family.” Docket No. 1, at 3; Docket No. 6, at 3.

- 10 6. A Temporary Anti-Harassment Order was authorized on April 11, 2013, and was later 11 extended to May 9, 2013. The Temporary Orders enjoin the WSP from providing 12 Mr. Robinson with Trooper Axtman’s home GPS coordinates. The initial Order
13 directs Mr. Robinson to appear and show cause why a one-year Anti-Harassment 14 Order should not enter.
- 15 7. Trooper Axtman and the WSP expended significant efforts to serve Mr. Robinson
16 with the Anti-Harassment Orders, to keep him apprised of the progress of his request
17 under the Public Records Act, and to give him actual notice of the May 9th hearing.
18 Those efforts included obtaining court authorization to serve Mr. Robinson by mail.
19 Through efforts to reach Mr. Robinson in-person, by mail, and by phone, Trooper
20 Axtman and the WSP obtained substantial evidence that the mailing address that Mr.
21 Robinson provided in his request is not his real address; that the mailing address is 22 commercial property; that Mr. Robinson has no known connection with the mailing 23

1 address; that the phone number he represented to be his phone number belongs to a
2 Mexican restaurant; that Mr. Robinson has no known connection with the Mexican 3 restaurant; and that the email address provided by Mr. Robinson began rejecting 4 communications from the WSP on or about April 18, 2013.

5 II. CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

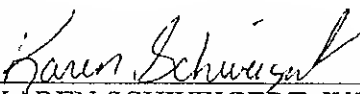

- 6 1. Trooper Axtman has met the burden of proof necessary for the Court to grant her
7 Motion for Enjoinder in part. Ames v. City of Fircrest, 71 Wn. App. 284, 857 P.2d 8 1083 (1993).
- 9 2. RCW 42.56.250(3) exempts disclosure of a public employee's home address under 10 the Public Records Act.
- 11 3. The disclosure of the GPS data that corresponds to Trooper Axtman's home address
12 would violate Trooper Axtman's privacy rights and can be deleted from the specific 13 records sought by the requestor. RCW 42.56.210(1).
- 14 4. It would be against the public interest and would substantially damage Trooper 15 Axtman's privacy requests to require disclosure of the GPS coordinates from which 16 her home address could readily be determined. Accordingly, the WSP is directed to 17 withhold that information from its public records response, and this portion of 18 Trooper Axtman's Motion for Enjoinder is GRANTED pursuant to RCW 42.56.540.
19 Bainbridge Island Police Guild v. City of Puyallup, 172 Wn.2d 398, 259 P.3d 190
20 (2011); King County Department of Adult and Juvenile Detention v. Parmelee, 162
21 Wn. App. 337, 254 P.3d 927 (2011).
- 22
24

1 5. To the extent Trooper Axtman's Motion for Enjoinder seeks to preclude the WSP
2 from disclosing personal and/or address information regarding any other member of 3 the Washington State Patrol, Trooper Axtman lacks standing to assert such a claim.
4 The Court also lacks facts sufficient to consider such a request. Accordingly, the 5 remainder of Plaintiff's Motion for Enjoinder is DENIED.

The plaintiffs, employees who are named in the record, on their behalf and as representatives

Motion and Memo for Enjoinder

1 for all of the employees of the Washington State Patrol to whom the record specifically pertains,
2 respectfully requests that the State of Washington and the Washington State Patrol be enjoined from:

- 3
- 4 1) releasing unredacted GPS data that shows or tends to show the geographic location of the 5 WSP employees' home addresses (which should include the coordinates within 100 6 yards of their actual home addresses so as to include those employees who park in 7 driveways, unattached garages, street parking and parking lots (i.e. apartment 8 complexes), ; and
- 9 2) releasing unredacted GPS data collected during the first thirty minutes of the employee's
10 shift and the last thirty minutes of the employee's shift unless there is a status change
11 and/or releasing GPS data reflecting coordinates within five (5) miles of the employee's 12 home at the beginning and the end of the shift.

13 II. SUPPORT FOR REQUESTED RELIEF

14 RCW 42.56.540 states that

15 "[t]he examination of any specific public record may be enjoined if, upon motion 16 and affidavit by an agency or its representative or a person who is named in the 17 record or to whom the record specifically pertains, the superior court for the county 18 in which the movant resides or in which the record is maintained, finds that such 19 examination would clearly not be in the public interest and would substantially and irreparably damage any person, or would substantially and irreparably damage vital governmental functions."

20 RCW 42.56.230(2) states that personal addresses are exempt from disclosure.

21 RCW 42.56.230(3) states that "personal information" is exempt from disclosure "to the 22 extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy."

23 "The right of privacy protected by this exemption is equivalent to that protected by the 24 common law of torts." Columbian Publ'g Co. v. City of Vancouver, 36 Wn. App. 25, 29, 671 P.2d 25 280 (1983) (citation omitted). A person's right to privacy is violated if the disclosure of the

1 information "(1) [w]ould be highly offensive to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate
2 concern to the public." RCW 42.56.050. "[B]oth a privacy interest and a lack of legitimate public
3 interest must be present to establish an exemption from public disclosures." Tacoma Pub. Library
4 v. Woessner, 90 Wn. App 205, 224, 951 P.2d 357 (1998) (citation omitted). Privacy rights are 5 implicated when personal information is published or disseminated, it is highly offensive to a 6 reasonable person, and the matters are not of legitimate concern to the public. See, e.g., Reid v.
7 Pierce County, 136 Wn.2d 195 (1998).

9 Washington courts have not considered whether the public has a legitimate concern in 10 where state property is temporarily located when employees are required to have that property
11 with them when they are home but the PRA specifically exempts the disclosure of an employee's
12 home address. RCW 42.46.230(2). GPS coordinates are more accurate and precise than a 13 residential address.

14 III. STATEMENT OF FACTS

- 15 1. Beginning in October 2012, the WSP began to deploy the Premier Mobile Data Computer
16 (PMDC) software in laptop computers. These laptops have the capability to receive Global 17 Positioning System (GPS) coordinates and begin to transmit data the moment an employee
18 signs into service at the start of her/his shift and continues to transmit until the employee signs 19 out of service.
- 20 2. "The laptop's GPS receiver requests data from satellites and transmits the data to the AVL 21 server based on the following variables: (1) the officer's status; (2) the vehicle's velocity; and 22 (3) the distance traveled." Declaration of James J. Hill filed under Cause No. 13-2-04107-1, pg 23 2, para 5.
- 24 3. "When the officer begins his or her shift, the officer signs into service through PMDC on the 25

1 laptop. During the shift, the officer many change status based on the activity he or she is 2 performing. Id. At para 7.

- 3
- 4 4. On or about March 4, 2013, the WSP received a Public Records request for the GPS data of 5 Trooper Heather Axtman from an individual identifying himself as John Robinson. Trooper
6 Axtman was able to secure an enjoinder of the release of GPS data related to her home address
7 in Snohomish County Superior Court, Cause Number 13-2-04107-1.
- 8 5. On or about August 21, 2013 employees of the Washington State Patrol (including Trooper 9 Axtman) received a notification that the WSP had received a Public Records request from a 10 person identifying himself as "Phil Mocek" on behalf of a company identified as 11 "MuckRock.com" and MockRock News. A true and correct copy of the notification is attached 12 at Exhibit A, p 3.
- 13 6. MockRock is a registered Massachusetts LLC. It has a business address of 135 Morrissey
14 Blvd, Boston, MA 02205 and its managers are identified as Michael Morisy and Mitchell
15 Kotler. See, Exhibit B, Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Business Entity
16 Summary for MuckRock, LLC.
- 17 7. The Request asks for GPS data from the individuals identified as Plaintiffs in this action and it
18 requests GPS data about WSP employees who live and work throughout the State of 19 Washington. See, Exhibit A. See also, Exhibit C (Declaration of District 7/Snohomish County 20 troopers) and Exhibits D- J (Declarations of Districts 1-6 and 8 troopers).
- 21 8. The Request includes the data containing the location of the employees' private home.
- 22 9. The GPS data that is collected by and through the patrol cars/sector computers is accurate up to 23 ten feet. See e.g. Exhibit C, para 5.
- 24 10. State Troopers are required to take their department issued vehicles to their personal residences
25

1 when they are off duty. The GPS data for the first and last thirty minutes of their shifts will
2 show the data leading to and from their home addresses and/or the GPS coordinates within a
3 five (5) mile radius the employee's home. See e.g. Id. para 6.

5 11. On or about August 21, 2013 WSP employees were advised that, absent a successful request
6 for an enjoinder, the data would be released on September 12, 2013. See, Exhibit A at pg 1.

7 12. The petitioners are employees of the WSP. They reside within Snohomish County. They are 8 also serving as representatives for the out-of-county employees who are named in the request
9 with the consent of those employees (see, e.g. Exhibits C through J) for the purpose of 10 promoting judicial economy and efficiency.

11 13. These employees have not consented to having the location of their private residences released
12 pursuant to the public records request. See, Exhibit C, para 8-9 and Exhibit D-J, para 9-10.
13

14 IV. STATEMENT OF ISSUE

15 The issue presented for resolution by the Court:

16 Whether the Court should enjoin the release of unredacted GPS records from WSP patrol
17 vehicles that show or otherwise disclose the location of the private residences of commissioned 18 members of the WSP.

19 Whether the Court should enjoin the release of GPS records obtained during the first and last 20 thirty minutes of an employee's shift (unless there is a status change) and/or within a five (5) mile
21 radius of the employee's home at the beginning and end of the shift unless there is a status change.

22 V. ARGUMENT

23 This Motion is made pursuant to RCW 42.56.540 which provides in pertinent part:

24 "The examination of any specific public record may be enjoined if, 25 upon motion and affidavit by . . . a person who is named in the record or to whom the record specifically pertains, the superior

1 court for the county in which the movant resides or in which the 2 record is maintained, finds that such examination would clearly not
3 be in the public interest and would substantially and irreparably
4 damage any person or would substantially and irreparably damage
5 vital government interests.”

6 A. Disclosure Would Harm Public Interest

7 Law enforcement is a vital government service as contemplated in RCW 42.56.540, which 8 provides an exemption for the disclosure of information that “would substantially and irreparably 9 damage vital government interests.”

10 The disclosure of the location of the private residences of law enforcement professionals
11 will damage vital government interests. The day-to-day duties of law enforcement officers (LEOs)
12 require that they come into contact with criminal elements. It is imperative that LEOs be able to 13 take appropriate action to investigate /apprehend criminals without the imminent fear that these 14 criminals or their associates will use information provided by their own employer (in this case, the 15 State of Washington) that will easily allow LEOs to be tracked to their homes and families.

16 The current policy of the State of Washington to release completely unredacted GPS data
17 places LEOS in jeopardy.

18 Although not directly on point, Brown v. Seattle Public Schools is very relevant. In Brown, 19 the School District successfully argued that the mass dissemination of evaluations was not in the 20 public interest, violated privacy interests and would adversely impact vital government functions.
21 Brown v. Seattle Public Schools, 71 Wash.App. 613, 860 P.2d 1059 Wash. App. Div. 1 (1993).

22 The Brown Court found:

23 “Legitimate public concern is lack here for the same reasons found 24 in Dawson. We specifically recognize these reasons with regard to 25 employees of public education.FN4 As stated in Dawson, the harm outweighs the public interest in disclosure in cases where a review reveals that the evaluations do not discuss specific instances of 1 misconduct or public job performance.

3 FN4. Disclosure could harm the public interest in efficient
4 government in two ways. First, if public employees were aware that 5 their performance evaluations were freely available to their 6 co-workers, neighbors, the press, and anyone else who cares to 7 make a request under the public disclosure act, employee morale
8 would be seriously undermined, resulting in a reduction of the 9 quality of performance. See, Ripskis v. Department of Housing &
10 Urban Dev., 746 F.2d 1, 3 (D.C.Cir. 1984). Second, disclosure
11 could cause even greater harm to the public by making supervisors
12 reluctant to give candid evaluations. See, Ripskis, at 3. Trenton
13 Times Corp. (Emphasis added.) See, Brown at 619.

14 Brown involves educators who did not want their evaluations freely disseminated because 15 such dissemination could result in non-life threatening consequences (like embarrassment). The 16 present case involves potential consequences of a much more serious nature. WSP commissioned 17 employees are concerned for the safety and security of their families and themselves.

18 In Brown, the court agreed that the broad dissemination of the evaluations would 19 undermine employee morale which would reduce the quality of performance. The dissemination 20 of the location of the private residences of LEOs will undermine employee morale and is likely to 21 make LEOs reluctant to take enforcement action against the most dangerous of our criminal 22 populations.

23 In Brown, the court agreed that broad disclosure would cause "even greater harm to the 24 public" because supervisors would be more reluctant to give honest evaluations. Surely, there is a 25 greater risk posed to the public in having LEOs reluctant to contact criminals out of fear that criminal will easily be able to obtain their residential information and will then use that information to retaliate against the LEOs and their families than there is of having educational supervisors afraid to given an honest performance evaluation to a teacher.

The facts described in the unreported case originating in Spokane County: State v. Mynatt,

1 demonstrate LEOs have a reasonable and valid concern that the associates of criminals could
2 retaliate against an arresting officer:

4 "After being arrested for suspicion of DUI, [Mynatt] shouted to the 5 officer, 'Your life just changed now, buddy, you're playing with the 6 big boys now.' RP at 22. When asked what he meant by that, Mr.
7 Mynatt stated, 'You figure it out.' RP at 22. He was handcuffed and 8 placed in the patrol vehicle while Officer Swan waited for a tow
9 truck to impound the motorcycle. During this waiting period, Mr.
10 Mynatt warned Officer Swan, 'I am not going to be in jail for too
11 long and when I get out, I am going to pay you a visit.' RP at 23. He 12 also stated, 'My boys will take care of you.' RP at 24. Officer
13 Minchew later testified that he heard these statements and 14 additionally heard Mr. Mynatt state that Mr. Mynatt's friends from 15 the 'Sprague clubhouse' would pay Officer Swan a visit. RP at 69.
16 The officers knew there was a Hell's Angels clubhouse on Sprague."
17 State v. Mynatt, 120 Wash.App. 1040, Not Reported in P.3d, 2004
18 WL 424031 Wash.App. Div 3, 2004.

19 It has always been the intent of the legislature to protect public officials from threats and 20 intimidation. RCW 9A.76.180 protects public servants from threats of harm based on the discharge 21 of their official duties. State v. Stephenson, 89 Wn.App. 794, 803, 950 P.2d 38 (1998). This is 22 designed to deter intimidation and threats that lead to corrupt decision making. Id at 803-804.
23 This RCW can only be used to attempt to punish those who threaten public officials. It will not 24 protect public employees from the threat or application of violence and no population understands 25 this more fully than do law enforcement professionals. In our post 9/11 world, pre-emptive action must be taken to protect those who protect the public. Disclosure of the locations of the private residences of LEOs would harm the public by making LEOs vulnerable and by making them reluctant to take enforcement action against criminals.

23 B. Purpose of the Washington Public Disclosure Act, RCW 42.17

24 The Washington Public Disclosure Act reflects the belief that the public should have full
25 access to information concerning the workings of the government. Amren v. City of Dalama, 131

1 Wash.2d 25, 31, 929 P.2d 389 (1997). This must be balanced against the Washington State
2 Constitution passage: “[G]overnments . . . are established to protect and maintain individual rights.”
3 Const. art. I, Sec. 1. “The purpose of the PDA is to ensure the sovereignty of the people and the 4 accountability of the governmental agencies that serve them.” Newman v. King County, 133
5 Wash.2d 565, ___, 947 P.2d 712, ___ (1997). Although citizens have a right to know what their 6 public officers are doing in the discharge of public duties, citizens do not have the right to personal 7 and confidential information where that information is not of legitimate concern to the public.
8 (Emphasis added. See, RCW 42.56.230(2).) The purpose of providing open access to information 9 concerning the conduct of government is to give citizens the ability to ensure the government is 10 working for the people.
11

12 There is no question that the GPS data that is compiled while a trooper is on shift is of 13 legitimate concern to the public. No reasonable argument can be made that the location of the 14 private residences of commissioned officers of the Washington State Patrol can be used to gauge
15 the conduct or standards of either the WSP or the individual law enforcement professionals. There
16 is no legitimate reason that the WSP cannot redact the location in which the trooper starts and ends 17 her shift.
18

19 C. Dissemination of Residential Data of Troopers is not in the Public Interest

20 The dissemination of the location of the private residences of commissioned employees of 21 the WSP exceeds the legislative intent behind the Washington Public Disclosure Act because there
22 is no legitimate public interest in the location of the private residences of troopers. Further, such 23 dissemination is directly contrary to public interest because it “would substantially and irreparably 24 damage vital government interests.” See, RCW 42.56.540.
25

The PDA mandates full access to public records and information concerning the conduct of

1 government (RCW 42.17.010(11), but the location of the private residences of troopers is not
2 relevant to government conduct. Further, RCW 42.56.230(2) states that personal information for 3 employees of any public agency is exempt from public inspection and copying to the extent that 4 disclosure would violate their right to privacy. To be "legitimate," the public interest must be
5 "reasonable." Dawson, 120 Wash.2d at 798, 845 P.2d 995. Some balancing of the public interest
6 in disclosure against the public interest in efficient administration of government is appropriate. Id.
7 The purpose of the Act is to keep the public informed so it can control and monitor the 8 government's functioning. Tiberino v. Spokane County, 103 Wash.App.680, 13 P.3d 1104
9 Wash.App.Div.3, (2000). Commissioned law enforcement professionals have a heightened need
10 for privacy because of the inherently dangerous nature of this career field. The blanket
11 dissemination of unredacted GPS data that provides the location of the trooper's personal 12 residence is not necessary for citizens to determine whether or not the conduct of law enforcement
13 professionals is appropriate.
14

15 D. Dissemination of Residential Data Violates Privacy Rights

16 GPS coordinates are more accurate and precise than street addresses. The State of 17 Washington must be enjoined from releasing unredacted GPS data that provides the location of 18 troopers' private residences because such dissemination would constitute an impermissible
19 invasion of privacy. See, RCW 42.56.540, Bainbridge Island Police Guild v. City of Puyallup, 172
20 Wn.2d 398, 259 P.3d 190(2011), King County Department of Adult and Juvenile Detention v.
21 Parmelee, 162 Wn.App. 337, 254 P.3d 927 (2011).
22

23 RCW 42.56.230(2) states that personal addresses are exempt from disclosure and RCW
24 42.56.230(3) states that "personal information" is exempt from disclosure "to the extent that 25 disclosure would violate their right to privacy." The law was enacted before PMDC software was

1 deployed to WSP employees so the RCW does not specifically address GPS coordinates but it is
2 obviously the intent of the legislation to protect home addresses from disclosure.

3 A person's right of privacy is violated when the disclosure of the information "(1) Would 4 be highly offensive to a reasonable person, and (2) is not of legitimate concern to the public."
5 RCW 42.56.050. The exemption applies to personal information that employees would not 6 normally share with strangers. Dawson. v. Daly, 120 Wash.2d 782, 845 P.2d 995 (1993).

7 No reasonable person, let alone a commissioned law enforcement officer, would share
8 his/her home address with a stranger. Being required to disclose one's personal address would be 9 highly offensive to a reasonable person. Residential addresses of commissioned officers are not of 10 legitimate concern to the public.

11
12 RCW 42.56.230(2) very clearly states that personal information is exempt from copying
13 "to the extent that disclosure would violate their right to privacy." Legislative intent to protect 14 public employees from unnecessary and harmful personal disclosures is very clearly demonstrated
15 through RCW 42.56.540 because the legislature widened the list of individuals who could enjoin
16 disclosure to include the individuals directly impacted by the requested disclosure and by requiring 17 that such examination be in the public interest while not substantially and irreparably damaging 18 any person or vital government interests.

20 VI. CONCLUSION

21 Under Washington's Act, both a privacy interest and a lack of legitimate public interest
22 must be present to establish this exemption. Koenig, 158, Wash.2d 173, 167, 142 P.3d 162 (2006).
23 Dawson, 120 Wash.2d at 798, 845 P.2d 995. Personal addresses are exempt from disclosure and 24 "personal information" is exempt from disclosure "to the extent that disclosure would violate
25 (employees') right to privacy." RCW 42.56.230(2) and (3)

Additionally, RCW 42.56.540 provides an exemption for the disclosure of information that “would substantially and irreparably damage vital government interests.”

The plaintiff has established that all three are present with regard to the release of unredacted GPS records. Law enforcement officers, who are already at grave risk of being targeted for revenge/retaliation from the criminal element, should not be placed at greater risk of being identified and located than the average public employee.

The State of Washington must be enjoined from releasing GPS records without first redacting the location of the troopers' private residences. GPS data related to their private residences should include the area with 100 yards of their home addresses (to make certain employees who park in driveways, in unattached garages, in driveways, on the street and/or in apartment parking lots are protected). GPS data compiled in the first and last thirty minutes of the employees' shifts and/or within a five (5) mile radius must also be redacted as this data will display where the employee lives.

SENT ELECTRONICALLY, NOT MAILED

TO: Employees Involved in Pending Disclosure Request
FROM: Ms. Gretchen L. Dolan, Risk Management Division
SUBJECT: Public Disclosure Request for Automatic Vehicle Database (GPS)

The Washington State Patrol (WSP) has received a public records request from Mr. Phil Mocek, with Muckrock.com for a "full and complete database of automatic vehicle (AVL) data in its native electronic format." Mr. Mocek's public records request indicates that he may post the responsive records on the internet.

Since your assigned patrol vehicle is/was equipped with a laptop that has the Premier Mobile Data Computer (PMD) software, the AVL database may contain the approximate GPS coordinates of your residence.

The WSP understands that you may have concerns regarding the release of this data. However, GPS data is not clearly exempt from public disclosure under RCW 42.56.230(3), RCW 42.56.240(1), or RCW 42.56.250(3), as the GPS data does not qualify in this context as investigative records, a residential address, or personnel records. Accordingly, the WSP is required to release the records in response to this public records request. Additionally, the Public Records Act prohibits a state agency from distinguishing between requestors or denying a request based on the requestor's intended use of the record.

If there is a special circumstance with these records or other statutory reason why they should not be disclosed, please call me to clarify those reasons.

RCW 42.56.540 provides that a person named in the record or to whom the record specifically pertains may ask the superior court to enjoin release of a specific public record. The purpose of this letter is to notify you of the pending disclosure of records and to give you an opportunity to seek to enjoin disclosure of the records under RCW 42.56.540 and the provisions of Article 17.2 of the WSPTA contract. Disclosure will occur after September 12, 2013, absent a superior court order enjoining disclosure.

If you commence an action seeking to enjoin disclosure, please ensure that notice is served on the WSP at this address. Additionally, you should also name the requestor as a party to any action seeking to enjoin disclosure pursuant to Burt v. Department of Corrections, 168 Wn.2d 828, 231 P.3d 191 (2010). If disclosure is not enjoined prior to September 12, 2013, the records described will be disclosed pursuant to the public records request.

If you would like to review the records prior to release, please call me at the below number to schedule an appointment.

In Support of Enjoinder

21 I am competent to testify as to the contents of this declaration and this declaration is offered in 22 support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Orders and an Enjoinder.
23

25 Declaration of Plaintiffs

1. I am a commissioned employee of the Washington State Patrol.
2. I have been a commissioned employee of the WSP for a minimum of three years.
3. My GPS data has been requested in the public records request that prompted the filing of this motion for an enjoinder.
4. Commissioned personnel of the Washington State Patrol are issued a patrol vehicle and are required to park that vehicle at their residences.
5. Patrol vehicles of the Washington State Patrol are equipped with GPS receivers. The GPS software generates a track of the location within ten feet.
6. As a commissioned member of the WSP, I have been issued a patrol vehicle and I am required to park that vehicle at my residence.
7. Although my primary duty station is located in Snohomish County, the statewide, 24/7 mission of the Washington State Patrol necessitates the "take-home car" policy. The facility parked or "pool-car" system employed by municipalities is unworkable across the vast geography of the state. Troopers, myself included, are routinely "called out" for emergency responses during their off-duty hours. The requirement of having a patrol vehicle parked at our residences enables us to respond immediately. Parking our patrol cars at our respective district offices would turn response times from minutes to hours. As a matter of public safety, this is unacceptable.
8. Public disclosure of residence locations as indicated by GPS tracking poses a risk to the safety of commissioned personnel and their families.
9. I find the disclosure of this information highly offensive as defined through RCW 42.56.050. It is not information I would ever disseminate to strangers. See, e.g. Dawson v. Daly, 120 Wash.2d 782, 845 P.2d 995 (1993).
10. I do not know of any legitimate reason members of the public would need to know where a trooper lives. I do not know of any legitimate reason why the Washington State Patrol cannot and should not simply redact the GPS coordinates of the troopers' homes before disclosing the remainder of the GPS data pursuant to a Public Records Request.

Declaration of Plaintiffs

Declaration of District 1
Washington State Patrol
Troopers In Support of
Enjoinder

17 I am competent to testify as to the contents of this declaration and this declaration is offered in 18 support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Orders and an Enjoinder.

- 19 1. I am a commissioned employee of the Washington State Patrol.
- 20 2. I have been a commissioned employee of the WSP for a minimum of three years.
- 21 3. I am assigned to work in District 1 – Tacoma and am signing this declaration in support of 22 the motion filed in Snohomish County by the District – 7 troopers.
- 23 4. My GPS data has been requested in the public records request that prompted the filing of this 24 motion for an enjoinder.
- 25 5. Commissioned personnel of the Washington State Patrol are issued a patrol vehicle and are required to park that vehicle at their residences.

Declaration of D1 Troopers

- 1 6. Patrol vehicles of the Washington State Patrol are equipped with GPS receivers. The GPS
2 software generates a track of the location within ten feet.
4 7. As a commissioned member of the WSP, I have been issued a patrol vehicle and I am
5 required to park that vehicle at my residence.
7 8. Although my primary duty station is located in District 1, the statewide, 24/7 mission of the 8 Washington State Patrol necessitates the "take-home car" policy. The facility parked or 9 "pool-car" system employed by municipalities is unworkable across the vast geography of 10 the state. Troopers, myself included, are routinely "called out" for emergency responses
11 during their off-duty hours. The requirement of having a patrol vehicle parked at our 12 residences enables us to respond immediately. Parking our patrol cars at our respective 13 district offices would turn response times from minutes to hours. As a matter of public
14 safety, this is unacceptable.
15
16 9. Public disclosure of residence locations as indicated by GPS tracking poses a risk to the 17 safety of commissioned personnel and their families.
18
19 10. I find the disclosure of this information highly offensive as defined through RCW 42.56.050.
20 It is not information I would ever disseminate to strangers. See, e.g. Dawson v. Daly, 120
21 Wash.2d 782, 845 P.2d 995 (1993).
23 11. I do not know of any legitimate reason members of the public would need to know where a
24 trooper lives. I do not know of any legitimate reason why the Washington State Patrol
25 cannot and should not simply redact the GPS coordinates of the troopers' homes before disclosing the remainder of the GPS data pursuant to a Public Records Request.

Declaration of District 3
Washington State Patrol
Troopers In Support of
Enjoinder

I am competent to testify as to the contents of this declaration and this declaration is offered in support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Orders and an Enjoinder.

1. I am a commissioned employee of the Washington State Patrol.
2. I have been a commissioned employee of the WSP for a minimum of three years.
3. I am assigned to work in District 3 – Yakima and am signing this declaration in support of the motion filed in Snohomish County by the District – 7 troopers.
4. My GPS data has been requested in the public records request that prompted the filing of this motion for an enjoinder.
5. Commissioned personnel of the Washington State Patrol are issued a patrol vehicle and are required to park that vehicle at their residences.

Declaration of D3 Troopers

- 1 6. Patrol vehicles of the Washington State Patrol are equipped with GPS receivers. The GPS
2 software generates a track of the location within ten feet.
4 7. As a commissioned member of the WSP, I have been issued a patrol vehicle and I am
5 required to park that vehicle at my residence.
7 8. Although my primary duty station is located in District 3, the statewide, 24/7 mission of the 8 Washington State Patrol necessitates the "take-home car" polity. The facility parked or 9 "pool-car" system employed by municipalities is unworkable across the vast geography of
10 the state. Troopers, myself included, are routinely "called out" for emergency responses
11 during their off-duty hours. The requirement of having a patrol vehicle parked at our 12 residences enables us to respond immediately. Parking our patrol cars at our respective
13 district offices would turn response times from minutes to hours. As a matter of public
14 safety, this is unacceptable.
15
16 9. Public disclosure of residence locations as indicated by GPS tracking poses a risk to the 17 safety of commissioned personnel and their families.
18
19 10. I find the disclosure of this information highly offensive as defined through RCW 42.56.050.
20 It is not information I would ever disseminate to strangers. See, e.g. Dawson v. Daly, 120
21 Wash.2d 782, 845 P.2d 995 (1993).
23 11. I do not know of any legitimate reason members of the public would need to know where a
24 trooper lives. I do not know of any legitimate reason why the Washington State Patrol
25 cannot and should not simply redact the GPS coordinates of the troopers' homes before disclosing the remainder of the GPS data pursuant to a Public Records Request.

Declaration of District 5
Washington State Patrol
Troopers In Support of
Enjoinder

16 I am competent to testify as to the contents of this declaration and this declaration is offered in 17 support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Temporary Orders and an Enjoinder.

- 18 1. I am a commissioned employee of the Washington State Patrol.
- 19 2. I have been a commissioned employee of the WSP for a minimum of three years.
- 20 3. I am assigned to work in District 5 –Vancouver and am signing this declaration in support of 21 the motion filed in Snohomish County by the District – 7 troopers.
- 22 4. My GPS data has been requested in the public records request that prompted the filing of this 23 motion for an enjoinder.
- 24 5. Commissioned personnel of the Washington State Patrol are issued a patrol vehicle and are 25 required to park that vehicle at their residences.

- 1 6. Patrol vehicles of the Washington State Patrol are equipped with GPS receivers. The GPS
2 software generates a track of the location within ten feet.
- 3
- 4 7. As a commissioned member of the WSP, I have been issued a patrol vehicle and I am
5 required to park that vehicle at my residence.
- 6 8. Although my primary duty station is located in District 5, the statewide, 24/7 mission of the 7 Washington State Patrol necessitates the "take-home car" policy. The facility parked or 8 "pool-car" system employed by municipalities is unworkable across the vast geography of
9 the state. Troopers, myself included, are routinely "called out" for emergency responses
10 during their off-duty hours. The requirement of having a patrol vehicle parked at our 11 residences enables us to respond immediately. Parking our patrol cars at our respective 12 district offices would turn response times from minutes to hours. As a matter of public
13 safety, this is unacceptable.
- 14
- 15 9. Public disclosure of residence locations as indicated by GPS tracking poses a risk to the 16 safety of commissioned personnel and their families.
- 17 10. I find the disclosure of this information highly offensive as defined through RCW 42.56.050.
18 It is not information I would ever disseminate to strangers. See, e.g. Dawson v. Daly, 120
19 Wash.2d 782, 845 P.2d 995 (1993).
- 20 11. I do not know of any legitimate reason members of the public would need to know where a
21 trooper lives. I do not know of any legitimate reason why the Washington State Patrol
22 cannot and should not simply redact the GPS coordinates of the troopers' homes before
23 disclosing the remainder of the GPS data pursuant to a Public Records Request.

STATE OF WASHINGTON AND

Defendants.

No. 13 2 07242 2

Motion and Declaration
To Serve Via Alternative Service

I. Motion

The Plaintiffs, through counsel, moves the Court for an Order authorizing service by mail.

II. Authority

CR 4(d)(4) and (e)(1), the attached declaration and the files and records herein.

Dated: 9/5/13

Karen Schweigert
Karen Schweigert, WSBA 35642
Attorney for Plaintiffs

III. Declaration

2.1 Service should be made by service via mail because:

Mt and Decl to Serve Via Alternative Service - Page 1 of 4
WPF DRPSCU 01.0280 (6/2006) - RCW 4.28.100; CR 4 (d)(4)

Defendant Phil Mocek, on behalf of MuckRock News/MuckRock.com specifically provided a PO Box in Boston, MA in his public records request rather than a physical address.

A search of Massachusetts Corporations records related to MuckRock only identified one business. The business address for MuckRock LLC is also located in Boston, MA.

Service via mail appears to be the most reliable and efficient manner to serve these out-of-state defendants.

2.2 The moving party has not been able to locate or serve the nonmoving party because:

The Public Records request that serves as the basis for this action was submitted via email. The address provided in the request is a Post Office Box in Boston, Mass, rather than a physical address.

2.3 The facts supporting the above allegations are:

The Public Records request that serves as the basis for this action was submitted via email by a person identifying himself as "Phil Mocek" on behalf of MuckRock.com and/or MuckRock News. See, Exhibit A. Mr. Mocek's July 10, 2013 email provided a mailing address of: MuckRock News; Dept MR 6216; POB 55819; Boston, MA 02205-5819.

A search of Commonwealth of Massachusetts corporations using "Phil Mocek" did not locate any businesses.

A search using "MockRock" located MockRock LLC. See Exhibit B. The name "Phil Mocek" does not appear anywhere on the Business Entity Summary. The managers of MockRock LLC are identified as Michael Morisy and Mitchell Kotler. Its business address is identified as 135 Morrissey Blvd, Boston, MA 02205.

2.4 The following efforts were made to locate the nonmoving party for personal service:

No efforts were made to locate the nonmoving party because the nonmoving party is not required to provide his true identity or affiliations when making a public records request. Requesters are allowed to use pseudonyms and are not required to provide any information about their affiliations. This request was made via email. And the requester provided a non-physical address.

The enjoinder is being sought against the State of Washington/Washington State Patrol. Mr. Mocek, MuckRock and the managers of MuckRock LLC are defendants only as a result of the WSP's intention to release data related to employees' home addresses. No enjoinder is being sought against individuals associated with MuckRock. Their status as defendants is for notification purposes based on their status or potential status as interested parties.

Mr. Mocek's decision to withhold a physical address should be respected and service by mail should be permitted.

- 2.5 Service by mailing is more likely to provide actual notice than service by publication.
- 2.6 Service should be sent to the following addresses: MuckRock News; DEPT MR 6216, POB 55819, Boston, MA 02205-5819 and MuckRock LLC, 135 Morrissey Blvd, Boston, MA 02205
- 2.7 This POB address is: The address provided in the Public Records request. The second address is the business address of MuckRock LLC.
- 2.8 Other:

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of Washington that the foregoing is true and correct.

Signed at Everett, [City] WA [State] on 9/5/13 [Date].

IV. Argument

CR 4(d)(4) states:

In circumstances justifying service by publication, if the serving party files an affidavit stating facts from which the court determines that service by mail is just as likely to give actual notice as service by publication, the court may order that service be made by any person over 18 years of age, who is competent to be a witness, other than a party, by mailing copies of the summons and other process to the party to be served at his last known address or any other address determined by the court to be appropriate.

CR 4(e)(1) states:

Whenever a statute or an order of court thereunder provides for service of a summons, or of a notice, or of an order in lieu of summons upon a party not an inhabitant of or not found within the state, service may be made under the circumstances and in the manner prescribed by the statute or order, or if there is no provision prescribing the manner of service, in a manner prescribed by this rule.

The Plaintiffs are attempting to secure an enjoinder against the State of Washington/Washington State Patrol. The Plaintiffs are not attempting to take any action against the other named defendants. The other defendants are named because they are interested parties who are entitled to notice of this action. ^{See, Burt v. Department of Corrections, 168 Wn.2d 828, 23 P.3d 191 (2010)} Phil Mocek did not provide a physical address in his public records request and he is not required to provide a physical address.

Where an individual who has submitted a public records request has not provided a physical address, service should be accomplished via an alternative to personal service so as to accord the requester as much privacy as possible.
